Does this discount apply to business products?

The goal of this program is to ensure that when you choose Dell for your consumer needs you receive the best deal available from our consumer lineup. For this reason the Employee Purchase Program discount applies only to Dell's personal line of computers (Dimension and Inspiron).

Does this discount apply to software and peripheral products (S&P)?

Although the EPP Discount does not apply directly to software and peripherals (Printers, DJ's, Televisions, Monitors, etc), we will always match the pricing structure and promotions associated with S&P found at the Home & Home Office portion of www.dell.com.
